

The Role of the SLP in Schools

A Presentation for Teachers, Administrators, Parents, and the Community

AMERICAN
SPEECH-LANGUAGE-
HEARING
ASSOCIATION

Speech-Language Pathologists (SLPs) Are Specially Trained Professionals Who Have Earned:

- A master's or doctoral degree
- The Certificate of Clinical Competence from the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association
- A state license and/or Department of Education certification, where required

ASHA Requirements

- Master's degree
- Supervised post graduate fellowship
- National competitive examination

SLPs Work With School Children Who Have Communication Problems That Affect Success In:

- Classroom activities
- Social interaction
- Literacy
- Learning

The Individuals With Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) Provides Speech-Language Services For:

- School-age children with communication disorders that adversely affect children's educational performance

Good Communication Skills Lead to Successful:

- Speaking
- Thinking
- Reading
- Writing
- Learning

Poor Communication Skills Lead to Problems:

- Understanding classroom instruction
- Participating in classroom instruction
- Developing and maintaining relationships

SLPs Work With Children Who Have A Variety Of Disabilities

- Language
- Voice
- Fluency or stuttering
- Articulation
- Swallowing , also called dysphagia

Language Disabilities Include:

- Slow development of vocabulary, concepts or grammar
- Inability to use different communication styles for different situations
- Poor building blocks of understanding/expressing ideas, social development, learning, reading, and writing

Voice Disorders

- Speech that is too high, low, or monotonous in pitch
- Interrupted by breaks
- Too loud or too soft
- Harsh, hoarse, breathy, or nasal

Fluency or Stuttering Problems

- Interruptions in flow or rhythm
- Can include hesitations, repetitions, or prolongations
- Can affect sounds, syllables, words, or phrases

Articulation Disorders

- Saying one sound for another (wabbit for rabbit)
- Omitting a sound in a word (i-cream for ice cream)
- Distorting a sound (thee for see)

Swallowing/Dysphagia

- Difficulty in sucking, chewing, triggering a swallow, moving food into the stomach

Swallowing/Dysphagia (continued)

- Interfere with eating lunch and snacks
- Reduce opportunities that build friendships
- Can affect social and communication skills
- Can impact learning

Speech and Language Disorders Can Be Associated With:

- Hearing loss
- Cleft palate
- Cerebral palsy and other motor problems
- Learning disabilities

Speech and Language Disorders Can Be Associated With: (continued)

- Autism
- Developmental delays
- Traumatic brain injuries
- Other problems

SLPs Have Many Roles in Schools

- Prevention of communication disorders
- Identification of students at risk for later problems
- Assessment of students' communication skills
- Evaluation of the results of comprehensive assessments
- Development and implementation of IEPs

SLPs Have Many Roles in Schools (continued)

- Documentation of outcomes
- Collaboration with teachers and other professionals
- Advocacy for teaching practices
- Participation in research projects

SLPs Have Many Roles in Schools (continued)

- Supervision of assistants
- Supervision of graduate students and clinical fellows
- Participation in school-wide curriculum and literacy teams

SLPs Work With Children in a Variety of Ways

- Combine communication goals with academic and social goals
 - Integrate classroom objectives
 - Help students understand and use basic language concepts
 - Support reading and writing
 - Increase students' understanding of texts and lessons

SLPs Work With Children in a Variety of Ways (continued)

- Services can vary depending on students' needs
 - Monitoring or periodic screening
 - Collaborating and consulting
 - Classroom based services
 - Small group or individual sessions
 - Speech classrooms

Signs of Communication Disorders

- Late talker
- Below expectations in classroom
- Difficulty learning to read and write
- Unable to express thoughts and ideas

Signs of Communication Disorders

(continued)

- Problems understanding others and following directions
- Doesn't get along with others
- Problems taking tests

How to Get Help

- Meet with classroom teacher
- Request a screening

ASHA Resources for Consumers About Communication Disorders

- WWW.ASHA.ORG/public/
ASHA's Public Web site
- To Locate a Professional:
WWW.ASHA.ORG/PROSERV/
- ASHA's Action Center for Consumers:
toll free 1-800-638-8255

Some Brochures: Your First Copy is Free

- Getting Ready for Reading and Writing
- IDEA and Speech-Language Services in the Schools: A Guide for Parents and Guardians
- Literacy and Communication: Expectations From Kindergarten Through Fifth Grade
- The Speech-Language Pathologist in Your Child's School: An Important Resource

More Brochures

- Child Language
- Speech Sound Disorders
- Stuttering
- Voice Disorders

Still More Brochures

- Ear Infections and Language Development
- Hearing, Noise, and School-Aged Children
- How Does Your Child Hear and Talk? (in English, Spanish, and Chinese)

Questions?

Press the "Esc" key on the computer's keyboard to end this presentation.